Dear Youngsters:

In this Little story you are about to read Juan told me about his new home. It is much more beautiful than the one he had left on Earth. And he told me it was frre and all the stars were within his reach. As he tells you inside, he liked the stars and together on the starry nights we played figures. When one of the stars fell towards Earth, we asked for a wish.

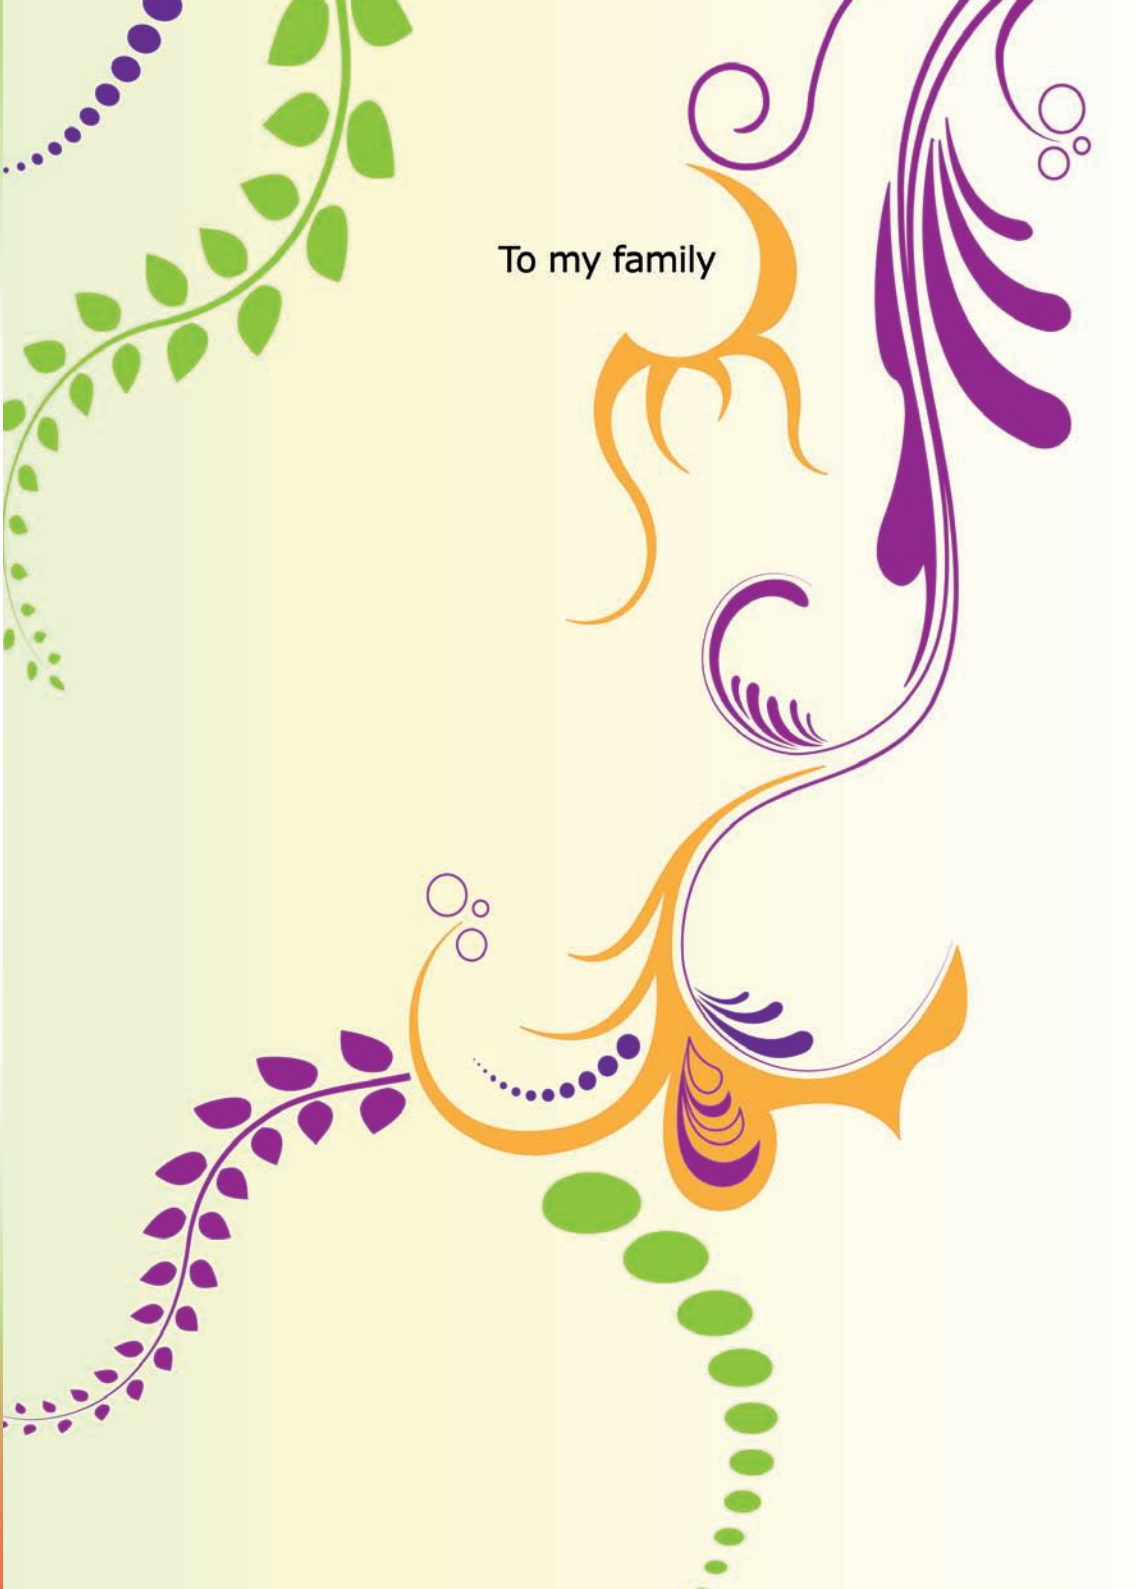

I wished to share those moments many times. And although Juan is in the Universe, and I am on Earth, we continue sharing them. The stars unite us across the distance so this union has been possible.

We never lose joy. In these days a Little less glad, look up at the universo to breathe Deep and think that there live many beings who love you and wish you the best.

With love.

Elena, Juan's mother.

To my family

Chapter One

Juan is already in the Universe! Now he is in his new home because four ruthless youths killed him. On April 1st, 2001, his lifeless body was lying on the asphalt in Saragossa's Plaza de Justicia.

When he arrived at the Universe, he was naked; his body torn apart; the medical examiners had to do their job. Juan was only nineteen years old. He had lived on Earth for a short time. Those young men took his life quickly. His agony lasted just a few moments. The fatal slash to his heart left him dead. He left his home and his city on Earth from that place. From that same square, where they took his life, his energy rose to the Universe, where he lives now.

Juan's new house has no windows or doors, furniture or bed. He does not need to eat or sleep. He feeds on his family's love from Earth. He left them very sad. His departure was as unexpected as his arrival in the Universe. It was not his destiny to arrive so soon. That is why both his family, and he had an awful time in the first moments of his departure. Time softens everything it has been said or is it the distance?

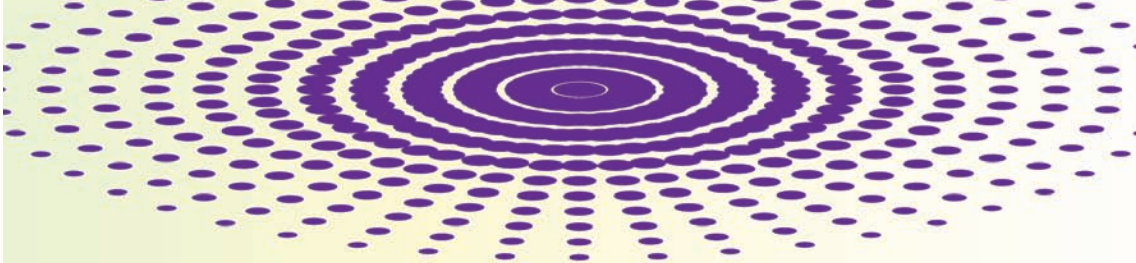

Being in his new home thrilled Juan. He has been able to do many things that he liked when he lived on Earth. He has studied the History of Herodotus and Aristophanes.

When he lived on Earth, he liked History, but life detoured him to Engineering. That is why in this new life, he chose History. He studied at Crystal University and was an excellent student. After finishing his studies, he decided to be a professor. He is now teaching at the Crystal University, the same university where he studied—his students like him a lot.

Guides, or teachers, received him when he arrived at his new home. They guided him, explaining his situation. He was no longer human and would be energy from then on.

But, there was a problem because his life on Earth was not over. The Stars gave him a choice. Return to Earth, find a new family, and be reborn or continue his life in the Universe. He didn't hesitate he wanted to stay in the Universe. But for that, he would have to find a person on Earth who wanted to continue his life for him. He liked his new home, and it was big. It had no walls! He lived better than on Earth.

—Very well, Juan. We will look for a person on Earth who wants to help you. That way, you do not have to return. It could be your mom. She was very sad and would be glad to have your energy.

They sent information to his mother from the Universe, sometimes in dreams, sometimes in messages through his friend Antonio.

His mother accepted his energy, and her smile returned. Now she is happy, or at least she wants to be happy, knowing that she can help him better when she is healthy.

Chapter Two

In Juan's new home, there are many things that he did not have in his house on Earth. There are lakes of light in which it is a pleasure to immerse himself. There are universities of crystal and light where he can study and get ready for a better life.

The house in which he lives now is enormous!

I can fly and jump from cloud to cloud. When I was small, I once saw a star fall from the Universe. I made a wish. That desire has come true. I wanted to fly and play with the stars like the one I watched falling towards Earth when I was older. Now that I live in the Universe, I play with them and ask them for many things they give me. On full moon nights in my new house, I talk to them. They answer and guide me to places full of peace and happiness. Soon I will become part of that Universe. I will be a star that will shine and go towards the Earth on many occasions, especially when needed by the people I love.

His family stayed on Earth, but he has not forgotten them. On the contrary, he is still part of that family. He is not there in his body, but his energy can be there.

Juan's energy flies to his house on Earth. He comes and goes with a lot of speed. He travels at the speed of light. Much faster than the high-speed AVE train. AVE was the name of the bullet train where he lived on Earth.

Many young people live in his new home in the Universe. They, like him, one day left Earth also.

He has lots of friends where he lives now. He shares many moments of his new life with them. It is a new life that he has had to accept quickly. He arrived before his time. He had to study hard and do many things to stay in that new house. Energies that come without it being their time have to return to Earth again. They have to find another family, be born again, and end their lives on Earth. But Juan will accept this life. He has prepared himself to return to Earth not in his body but as energy. It has been a tricky process, but in the end, with the help of the Stars, he has done it.

Now he is thrilled to do this job assigned to him. He returns to Earth as energy and writes through his mother. He helps sick people by harmonizing their bodies to make them feel better. That way they can put up with illness with less stress.

Juan thrills the Stars. Despite being very young, he cooperates a lot. Soon he will be one of them.

When Juan comes to Earth, the Stars accompany him. They illuminate the path. He is so happy in the Universe that he does not want to live on Earth.

In the Universe, there are no envies, no fights, no wars. There everyone lives in a state of peace and harmony. They do not miss what is on Earth. But of course, they count on the love of their families because it keeps them going.

My mother has made this transformation possible. Her love has been so great that she has united us again. We both are happy. We can do many things, like making people who are going through difficult times happy again.

Unconditional love is love given without asking for anything in return. This love will save our lives on Earth and in the Universe or heaven if you want to call it that.

Love is the greatest thing that exists. If everything you do, you do with love, in the end, there will be understanding between everyone.

Juan, in his new home, is thrilled. So much that he wants to tell people how well he lives in the Universe. He will do that through his mother, who has offered to do it for him.

We live in peace, and we know what is happening on Earth. When you need us, we will help you because we can be in many places at once.

I want to tell you... one day I had been living in the Universe for a short time, an older person with dark skin approached, presenting himself as Thamanuel. He is a Indian shaman who lived on Earth for many years. Now, he is in the Universe with his family, all together again. He told me that I would be like a son to him from that moment. I was surprised, but he spoke very clearly. "Juan, you are up here because of the hatred of some young people who live on Earth. They have sent your energy here. You should not be here because when you were born, you chose another life. But sometimes in your path you find people who can stop it short. It happened to you. That's why you have to return to Earth again unless you want to work from here until your cycle is over."

At first, Juan did not understand. He had lived in a family on Earth that did not know what hatred was. Thamanuel explained that sometimes people do not have the same opportunities as others, either for education or for ways of living. Some people who from small children grew up with violence in their families. That's what happened to those young people who had taken his life. Juan was understanding what that man, who was going to be his guide in his new home, wanted to tell him.

He would have to work with these young people to make them understand what they had done to him. I would! He would also help his mother to do it for him on Earth.

His mother is no longer young, but he helps her to be well and gives her strength. He gives her energy to continue his life on Earth.

Chapter Three

As we have said in previous chapters, Juan's new house is huge. It does not have windows or walls; it is the whole Universe! He lives very well and does not sleep or eat. Yes, he lives on the love of his family, who lives on Earth. Also, beings who live with him in the Universe help him.

Juan's new home is so large that all the beings who have left Earth can live there.

On Earth, there are buildings with many floors. We could talk of levels or planes in the Universe. Similar to living on the floors of a building on Earth.

On each level live one classification of beings because some are more evolved than others; some live in the high levels and others in the low ones.

Beings that live on the higher floors can go to the lower floors.

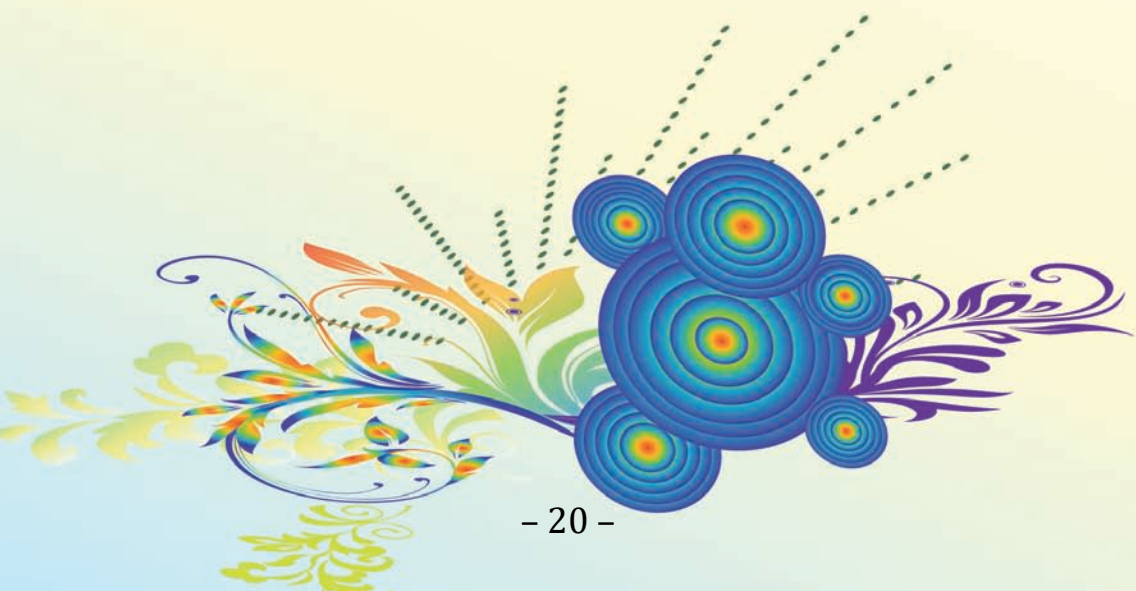

I explain it so that you understand that you will arrive at the Universe, except in exceptional cases, you will end up in the lower levels. It is like living on the ground floor of an Earth building.

The beings who have come from Earth have to purify their lives and evolve to the higher planes.

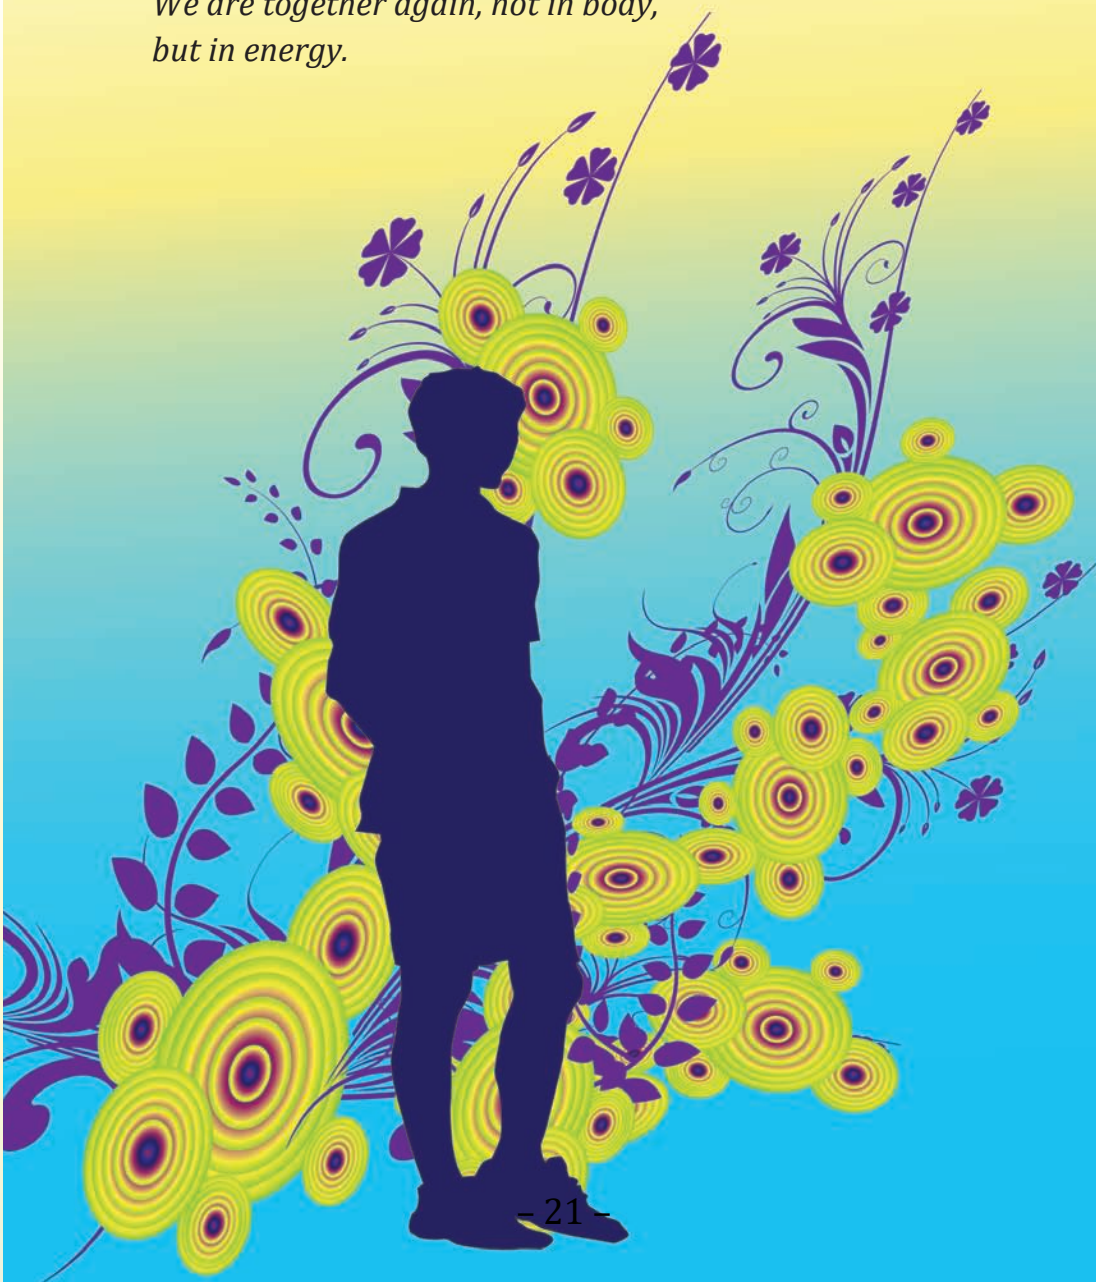

When you are a child, you don't understand everything about the Universe and the beings that live in it. These are things that we don't stop to think about them.

It isn't easy to understand for many of you because you are children. But it will not be difficult for your parents to explain to you. When a person ceases to exist on Earth, they rise to the Universe. Their body, which is matter, is destroyed, but not their energy, which lasts forever. Some people reach that energy through light.

That is what happened to me. One day my body got destroyed. It was on Earth and lifeless. But my energy rose to the Universe. There it was until the day mom managed to reach my energy through her mind. Everything was possible because she forgave the young men who took my life when I was on Earth.

My mom managed to cross the barrier between heaven and Earth. Everything is possible through love. Her love helped us. That love is what has brought us together again. We are together again, not in body, but in energy.

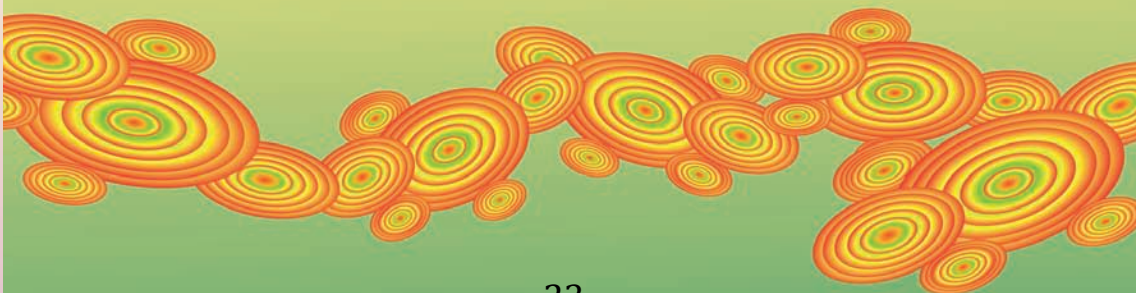

You must never lose hope that you will win in the end. When you do things with love, everything will work out well. My mom manages to be with me whenever she wants. She only has to fill her body with light and send me a lot of love, and immediately my energy flies to her. Her mind transmits things that my energy tells her. So I can write, even if she is the one who does it for me.

My energy makes her fingers move, and she writes what I want to tell the children. I want you to know that when you leave Earth, there's a life much more pleasant, in which there is no hatred, and you live in endless love.

I want to tell you many more things, but you are so young and may not understand. I want you to know that here in the Universe live beings that left the Earth one day. From here, we send you lots of love. We want you to live very happily. We want there to be no wars because they destroy the Earth. Children need to take care that their elders do not destroy Earth because everyone's lives will be better when everyone takes better care of our planet.

I want to tell you these things because we can see everything very well from up here. We see that people have no scruples. We see that they only think of themselves. They do not care about others. Those people who have in their power the means to fix many things are the ones who should work so that children all over the world can have the same opportunities. We know that impoverished countries need help. The people who have many resources can and should help the neediest.

It would not be costly, but sometimes, people don't care about others when they live very well. They don't know what it's like to go hungry or be cold.

All this that I do through my mother, I want to help children of broken families. Those children who don't know their parents' love will grow up hating children who are not needy. They will hate children who have everything with parents who love them, parents who make sure they lack nothing.

Those children who have lived without knowing what parental love is, have been taught violence from an early age. That is what they know how to do.

Together we can help these children so that they can live better and have the same opportunities. That way, when they grow up, they will not feel hatred towards other children who have had everything they have lacked.

My mom will use all the money she collects from my writing to help those kinds of kids because I don't want them to do to anyone else what those young men did to me.

I know it is complicated, challenging, but if we do everything with love, we will get there in the end.

Chapter Four

Where I live now, we're happy when we see our loved ones on Earth remember us. We are so glad when they have us present in their conversations, prayers, and daily lives. Here in the Universe, we are delighted to know they remember us. That helps us a lot. Beings that no one remembers are sad and evolve more slowly, so you must always keep all your loved ones in your thoughts and memories.

My new house is beautiful. It has many stars, all the ones you see from Earth; look how big it is compared to Earth!

When we look down to Earth, we see you small. Sometimes we come down and give you our light. We are invisible beings for you. We guide you so that your life is better. From here, we want nothing terrible to happen to you. We want you to live well and be happy. That's why whenever we can, we come and keep you company.

When there's a catastrophe, we fly there quickly to help everyone that will come to be part of our new home. So as you can see, we're overloaded. There's a lot of work up here.

Not all of us who live in the Universe can work. Only the beings who've reached the light that means those who live in higher planes, can work, as I told you in the previous chapter.

It happened to me on one occasion. The Stars sent me to work on Earth. It was my first time. I was a little nervous, but at the same time happy to be with my family again. I had to make my presence known to them. I had to let them know that my energy was there in my home on Earth. I didn't go alone. My friend Rafael accompanied my guide Thamanuel and me. We flew to Saragossa. My house is near the Cathedral-Basilica Our Lady of the Pillar, on the west bank of the Ebro River.

I'll never forget my first trip. It was adorable. When I came back to the Universe, I was delighted because it went well. I was with my family. My mother realized that I was with her. I was moving around, producing air currents for her. She already knew that beings who have left the Earth could appear in this way. That first meeting was beautiful because she spoke to me and thanked me for that lovely moment. I grew a lot, how proud I was because my mother had accepted me. She received my energy without getting upset. Rafael and Thamanuel had to take me back to my new home. But, I was so happy, I was jumping around, going from room to room. That's why my friend and guide had to take me by the hand and hold me very tightly, so I wouldn't get into mischief.

I've returned many times to my home on Earth. At first, others accompanied, me but now I go alone. I've learned the way, and they don't have to take me back by the hand anymore.

Chapter Five

We come and go. Back and forth, from the Universe to Earth and from Earth to the Universe. It is a continuous movement of the beings in the Universe and beings on Earth.

It is a wheel that turns without stopping. Only when our lives have reached their perfect state that they have light and at the same time have become part of the Universe giving rise to a star.

Isn't everything I have told you beautiful? It is real. We are born, die, and reborn in this new life, which I've told you about in a few words because the tale requires it.

I'll let you know something else. While I enjoyed reading novels when I was a young like you, I never had the chance to read anything about the energy of beings who leave Earth. I hope this will be useful to many of you. You must learn another thing. Our bodies are matter, and that matter gets destroyed, but not our energy. Our energy lasts forever.

The benefist obtained through this book will be destined to the Juan Rioseras Foundation in order to help youngsters from unstructured families.
